KISSED HER ON A BET.

She Was a Salvation Lassie; He, Her Husband—Traveling Men Didn't Know That.
A clever trick was worked by Walter Redmond and his wife at Union station by which several traveling men were duped out of their money. At the end of a long seat in the waiting room was a pretty and modest looking young woman attired in a Salvation Army uniform. She was very intent upon a paper which she was reading and paid little attention to the crowd of traveling men standing near her.

Aside from the crowd was a well dressed young man, who was walking back and forth by the newsstand puffing away at a fragrant cigar. Finally a member of the crowd of traveling men remarked upon the beauty of the little Salvation Army worker. All eyes were fixed on the little woman, and she received many compliments. The prosperous looking young man who had been walking near the group of drummers drew near to the crowd. He, too, was struck with the appearance of the woman.

"I'll give you any one of you fellows $15 if you kiss that girl," said he.
Those in the crowd took the dare. One spoke up, however, and said to the stranger who had offered the money, "I'll bet you $20 that you can't kiss her."

The stranger hesitated for several seconds and then said:

"I'll just take that bet."

The money was put up, and the stranger, who had given his name as Walter Redmond, walked over toward the little woman in uniform, and, after bowing profoundly, took a seat by her side.

At first the woman seemed to be very indignant, and the traveling man thought he had the $20 won. A minute later, however, Redmond's arm stole around the woman's waist. The spectators then began to open their eyes wide. One of them said: "That fellow has a whole lot of influence over that girl. It may be that he is a hypocrite." Redmond talked for probably two minutes and then kissed the woman.

Redmond walked over to the stakeholder and received his money. He then started from the depot. The little woman quickly arose from her seat, and, taking his arm, walked to Ninth and Broadway, where the couple took an East Broadway car. Redmond is tall and handsome. His wife is a blond and is exceptionally pretty.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A HINT TO ARTISTS.

One Way of Putting Rejected Exhibits to Good Use.

They were riding on the Fourteenth street cars and their conversation was edifying. The man with the long hair was evidently a sculptor, and his companion, a large, jolly looking fellow, was trying to persuade him to present a work of art to some society woman who had a mania for collecting bric-a-brac and articles of vertu.

"I told her that you would, I thought, in time present her with some memento, a statuette illustrating your peculiar style. Was I wrong in saying so?"

The sculptor answered indignantly: "I know her value of art, and I tell you she cannot distinguish between manufactured trinkets and works of art. In fact, she thinks all artists are manufacturers and can turn out statuettes as easily as the rich stove ornament man who gave her a nickel plated mule. Then, too, a brass fixture artist gave her something from the brass foundry, and she thought it great. Never, in my judgment, could she appreciate a true work of art."

"Then you refuse to give her a sample of your work? Remember, she has great influence."

"I do not refuse. I'll give her that model in plaster of paris which was refused by the committee last month. She will think it great, whether or not the committee did."

"Good! She will think it magnificent and get you an order."—New York Commercial.

A Dramatic Assassination.

By far the most dramatic royal assassination was that of the Emperor Paul of Russia on March 24, 1881, by his nobles. As usual Paul had retired to rest booted and spurred and in his regimentals. At the dead of night he was awakened by an unusual noise. The hussar who guarded his chamber door—the only faithful sentry, as it proved, in the palace—was being killed by nine nobles. They burst into the room and began to attack the emperor. Paul hid behind chairs and tables and begged for his life. He offered to make each of his assailants a prince. He offered to abdicate in vain. Then he made a wild dash for the window, fearfully gashing himself, but he was dragged back. He seized a chair and for some time kept the nine of them at bay, and only after terrific struggles was he seized and strangled with his own scabb.

Pointed.

"Isn't your father of rather a retiring disposition?" asked the young man taller whose chief weakness is to stay late.

"Yes," she answered demurely, "he retires at 10 and insists that the house be closed within half an hour of that time."—Detroit Free Press.

A Press.

"I don't quite catch the drift of your remarks," said the girl who willfully misunderstood.

"I think I do of yours," said the young man who had been trying to propose. "It is something in the nature of a snowdrift."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

It is estimated that as many as 60,000 farmers and others in France make their living by the manufacture of Roquefort cheese.

More than 2,000 obelisks, in position or fallen, are known to exist in Egypt.

Eternal Vigilance.

"Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

It is the price of everything worth having.

It is the price of life itself. A man needn't be always looking for danger, afraid that something will happen to him; but a wise man will form a habit of care about the important things of life.

It isn't half so much trouble to take care of yourself as it is not to. A man who follows regular, healthy habits, feels good all the time. Life is worth living to him. But a man who "don't want to bother" with taking care of himself has more pain and misery crowded into one day than a good healthy, hearty man who lives right would ever know of in a whole year.

When a man's stomach is out of order, and his digestion don't work; when his liver gets to be sluggish and won't clear the bile out of his blood, it is time for him to look out for himself. He gets no nourishment out of his food. His blood gets thicker and thicker with impurities. His nerves get irritated. He loses energy and fighting force. He may say, "I can stand it; I will feel better to-morrow," but the chances are he will feel worse to-morrow and worse still next day. He ought to put himself right at once. He needs Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is made for just this condition. It rouses up the digestive and nutritive organs, and gives them power to extract from the food all the nutritious elements and transform them into rich, nourishing blood. It enables the liver to cleanse out all bilious impurities and pour into the circulation an abundance of highly vitalized blood, full of the life-giving red corpuscles which build up healthy flesh, muscular strength, and nerve-energy. It does not make flabby flesh. It is the only suitable tonic and strength builder for corpulent people.

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given to the Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.

The two Moorish slaves, "Cyclone" and "Rabbit's Foot," who are regarded as the mascots of the Calhoun Opera company, are traveling with the organization again this season and when they come to this city on Saturday, January 20, will execute some of their most difficult and artistic terpsichorean frivolities. They have added many new and artistic steps this season.

My stock of domestic and imported cigars and tobaccos is complete in every particular, comprising such brands as the Nerve, Carl Dunder and Royal in the 5-cent goods, and El Belmont, Saucier, Hays, De Vallens, Internations, Hotel Brunswick, General Arthur and many others in the imported goods. Call and be satisfied. Free employment office in connection with the store. A. NELSON.

The free silver leaders have arranged to produce a number of plays, which will portray more vividly than words the evils of the gold standard. One of these plays, "The Curse of Gold," will shortly be put on the stage and produced throughout the country. Senator Stewart predicts that it will have great success and says it will be another "Uncle Tom's Cabin." With a good company the "Curse of Gold" ought to draw immense audiences and have a good effect in the States where coal miners and factory hands are striking for wages that will keep themselves and families from starving.

THE RENO INCORPORATION ACT.

The Supreme Court Holds that Proceedings to Determine its Constitutionality Should be by Quo Warranto.

Justice Massey of the Supreme Court has filed an opinion in the Reno Incorporation case in which application was made for a writ of certiorari, in which Chief Justice Belknap and Justice Bonfield concur.

The Court recites the facts that the City of Reno is incorporated under the provisions of an Act of the Legislature; that said Act authorizes the City Council to borrow money or to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting water works and establishing an electric light plant if upon submission of the votes cast of the duly qualified electors residing within the limits of the City of Reno, as shown by the last preceding registration, are in the affirmative; that an election was held in October, 1897, and a canvass showed a majority in favor of said proposition; and the City Council advertised for bids for the purchase of bonds for the purpose of constructing water works and an electric light plant and for bids for plans and specifications for the same. The Relator asks the Court, upon a review of the proceedings, to annul the action of the City Council, assigning as reasons therefor the unconstitutionality of the law incorporating the City of Reno and specifically citing twelve provisions of our Constitution whereof the Act is violative.

Proceedings in Certiorari in this State have been regulated by statute. It is a writ of review and is granted on application by any Court in this State except a Justice's, Recorder's or Mayor's. The writ shall be granted in all cases where an inferior tribunal, board or officers, exercising judicial functions, has exceeded the jurisdiction of such tribunal, board, or officer, and there is no appeal, nor in the judgment of the Court, any plain, speedy and adequate remedy. The review upon this writ shall not be extended further than to determine whether the inferior tribunal has regularly pursued the authority conferred upon the inferior tribunal.

It will be seen from the statutory provisions that the power of the court in this proceeding is limited to a review of those acts only that are judicial in their character, and that are in excess of jurisdiction, and then only in case there is no right of appeal, nor in the judgment any plain, speedy and adequate remedy.

The Court holds that if it should pass upon the constitutionality of the act incorporating the City of Reno it would not be determining whether the City Council exceeded its jurisdiction in ordering bonds to be issued, etc., but passing upon the right of the City Council to exercise its functions and upon the validity of the corporate existence of the City of Reno. This the Court does not believe it has the power or authority to do under the limitation of the statutes. Further, the questions involved must and can be determined by another proceeding plain, speedy and adequate, under the provisions of an act regulating proceedings in quo warranto, approved February 21, 1895.

Numerous authorities are cited and the Court concludes that the proceedings in certiorari concede the valid existence of the City of Reno, and only allows an inquiry as to any excess of jurisdiction in those matters that are judicial in character; that the orders and resolutions and ordinances of the City Council that are not of a judicial character can only be reviewed in a proceeding in quo warranto under the statute, therefore the Court has no authority to pass upon the constitutionality of the act of the incorporation nor can it annul the proceedings of the City Council. All questions as to the constitutionality of the act and all questions as to the exercise of powers not conferred by law can be determined in the same proceeding.

The Court says it has carefully considered the merits of all matters submitted in this proceeding, and is prepared to speedily determine the same in proper action, and orders the writ dismissed.

FROM RENO TO LOS ANGELES.

Probability of a Connecting Line South. The Mining and Scientific Press of January 16th says: "It is alleged that the builders of the railway from Kramer to Johannesburg, Cal., intended to build to the borax mines, sixty miles distant, and thence fifty miles farther to make a connection with the Carson & Colorado Railway at Keeler. In this regard it is noted that the owners of the Johannesburg road are intimate in the interests of the Vanderbilt lines, which now include the Union Pacific and may purchase the Central Pacific when it comes to be sold under foreclosure. If this be done, it would give the new owners a direct line via Reno, Nevada, to Southern California and Los Angeles, independent of the Southern Pacific. The contract for the 110 miles of extension has been virtually let to Hamish & Marsh, the contractors who built the present line from Kramer."

Modern Science.

The staff of a medical institution in Portland, Or., were nonplused when they undertook to perform an operation for appendicitis. They found that the patient had no vermiform appendix to remove. The surgeons were not to be cheated, however, so they took out anything that they considered superfluous and the patient recovered.

AN UNFORTUNATE EDITOR.

Edison's Experience in Newspaper Making Was Not a Happy One.

In her life story of Edison Mrs. Sarah A. Tooley relates the following concerning the "Wizard":

"Having been successful as a news-seller, Edison lost no time in becoming an editor and publisher, and like Garrison:

What need of help? He knew how types were set.

He had a dauntless spirit and a press.

"True, Tom Edison's press only consisted of a disused set of type purchased for a nominal sum, and his combined printing office and editorial sanctum was a dilapidated luggage van, but it possessed an advantage of which even Printing House square cannot boast—it was migratory. The van converted to this novel purpose was attached to the train on the Grand Trunk railway, and appropriately enough the paper was entitled The Grand Trunk Herald.

"A further venture was Paul Pry, in which, if any one may be excused a pun, the editor 'pried' into things in too free a manner, and some individuals, incensed at his fun at their expense, dipped him into the river to cool his imagination. Further disaster followed when one day a phosphorous bottle upset in his laboratory and nearly set the train on fire. The conductor promptly removed Edison and his apparatus, printing and chemical, to the platform at the next stopping place.

"It was a bitter moment, of which Edison cannot think without feeling over again the sense of utter hopelessness and desolation which came upon him when he saw the train whirling off while he stood alone and forsaken among his broken goods, his ear tingling with a brutal box which injured his hearing for life."

Beauty Contest in Washoe County for Omaha Exposition.

As Vice President Maxson has called upon me to furnish him with the names of the handsome ladies in Washoe county, I have concluded to leave their selection to a vote of the ladies of the county.

All ladies, residents of Washoe county, may submit to me by written ballot, in person or by postal card through the mail, the names of eight ladies whom they consider the best looking in the county, and must sign their names to the list as the voter, and no one will be allowed more than one vote. On the 15th of February the votes will be closed and the names of the eight ladies receiving the highest number of votes will be given to the Vice President and their photographs requested. These photos will be grouped with those chosen from the other counties of the State, and from this collection the Exposition management will choose two whose faces will be cast upon souvenir medals to be issued by the Omaha Exposition.

J. B. McCULLOUGH, Washoe County Exposition Commissioner, Reno, Nevada. J24d (Washoe county papers please copy.)

Careful Operatic Details.

The production of Offenbach's masterpiece, "The Grand Duchess," at the Opera House Saturday, January 23, by the Calhoun Opera company this season will be a revelation in beauty and grandeur. The scenery for the opera was painted by Mr. Thomas Moses, who painted all the scenery for the late Booth & Barrett company, as well as many of the principal attractions of to-day. The costumes are made from the designs by Hamilton Bell and made by Madam Barclay, who was brought to this country from Paris by David Henderson to superintend his famous productions at the Chicago Opera House. The calciums and electrical appliances which are carried by the company are said to produce marvelous effects in the way of lighting up the beautiful scenery. A large orchestra under the direction of Mr. Richard F. Lindsey adds greatly to the enjoyment of the performances by this superb company.

To Whom Does it Belong.

The following will explain itself: ED. JOURNAL:—Some four or five weeks ago we received by mail, under U. S. Department of Agricultural, frank, a package of soil, two samples, one in a manilla envelope with address of Home Supply Association, 13 Front street, S. F., printed thereon. This sample was marked "Rosebush Soil." The other was in a two ounce Durham tobacco sack and marked "Native Soil." No name of consignor appeared on the package and no letter concerning same has been received.

Very truly yours,

NATHANIEL E. WILSON, Station Chemist.

Reno, January 25, 1898.

The Douglas county Grand Jury refused to indict any of the men charged with the lynching of Uber. The vote stood nine to eight in favor of several indictments, lacking three of carrying. The foreman stated that it was useless to consume any further time.

There is no sentiment about Grizler. He is close and is not easily alarmed. It is not surprising, then, that the doctor assumed the utmost gravity when Grizler called to present the case of his wife. "I'm greatly afraid," said the husband, "that her mental equilibrium is disturbed. She is not like other women and not as she used to be."

"What are the symptoms?"

"You may regard them of a negative character, doctor. To begin with, she never opens her fashion papers of late."

"Bad! Bad! Very bad!"

"I feared as much. The woman who lives next door called last night and wore one of the most elegant hats I ever saw. You know that I am not given to noticing such things. Mrs. Grizler never seemed to see it and said nothing about it after the caller had gone."

"Awful," exclaimed the doctor, "awful. I've known your wife, Grizler, ever since she was born. No one ever had a brighter mind or a happier disposition. I can't understand it. Used to be the life and beauty of every company she was ever in. Does she go out?"

"No, nor entertain. Never mentions the theater, burns all invitations and is without the slightest interest in the social whirl. I would give half I'm worth to see her the girl I married."

"Done," snapped the doctor, and he wrote out the strangest prescription on record: "Let called for horses, carriages, fine raiment, jewels and a well filled purse." At the bottom was a receipt in full for $250,000. There was no chance for Grizler to weaken, and now his wife is one of the most brilliant women in the swim. When she and the old doctor meet, he winks and she whispers, "You dear old soul."—Detroit Free Press.

Parliamentary Humor.

The London World gives this as an illustration of the keen humor of Justice Darling: On one occasion, when Mr. Gladstone was beginning to give up the lead in the house of commons to Sir William Harcourt, it was noticed by the members that he left the house at the dinner hour and Sir William Harcourt led for the rest of the sitting. Mr. Darling one evening drove Sir William to fury, on failing to elicit a definite answer to an inquiry, by casually observing in the course of his speech, "I have noticed that lately the party opposite, adopting an ancient precedent, has set up a greater light to rule the day and a lesser light to rule the night."

 Court of Nevada in and for Washoe county Administrator of the estate of Chas. A.
 Jones late of said county, deceased. All

 J. E. JONES,
 Administrator.

He Won the Day.
 Dr. John Bachman, a beloved minister in Charleston not much over 30 years ago, was fond of "music. Moreover, he had an excellent means of managing a church choir, one which other clergymen might use with good effect."
 In his early student life the singing was very bad in the old church of which he was a member. He set to work with the zeal of youth and the enthusiasm belonging to his own character to reform this undesirable state of things, and having mustered a large class procured a singing master to lead it.
 The congregation soon began to take delight in the result, and Bachman watched his class with great satisfaction, not at all alayed by the discovery that his own voice proved neither true nor sweet, though it was a most agreeable one in speaking.
 But his choir was not flawless. Its members fell out, and one Sunday when the pastor gave out the hymn an ominous silence reigned. John Bachman waited a moment in deep anxiety.
 Then, with his ever present and self forgetful desire to help, he rose in his seat and began to raise the tune.
 That was enough. The singers smiled and chimed in by one consent as lustily as if they had no greater desire than to drown his willing but discordant voice.
 He smiled also and gave them the floor, and never did he cease to enjoy the situation.
 "My class was afraid of my bad singing," he would say to his grandchildren, a humorous look stealing into his eyes. "So I won the day."—Youth's Companion.

Good Friends.
 In a cavalry troop there generally grows up between each horse and his rider a strong bond of sympathy and friendship. Soldiers in the cavalry service are in most cases stationed at remote western posts, where, far from home and friends and as a rule unmarried, they are necessarily very limited in their social pleasures and amusements.
 On this account, perhaps, the propensity for having pets of various kinds is very strongly developed and increases the sense of fellowship between the horses and their riders. Cruelty or in-attention to the wants of their horses is a rare trait among cavalrymen, and even should this be the case from the feeling of proprietorship cruelty from one soldier to the horse of another would be resented as an injury to the owner himself.
 This comradeship is more in evidence upon a long march or while in the field engaged upon arduous or dangerous duties. On such occasions, when forage often becomes scarce, cavalry soldiers will jealously guard every grain that their horses receive, and should the sergeant through carelessness or prejudice give a trifle more or less to one than the other it often provokes a vast deal of grumbling, so closely is the trooper interested in the welfare of his horse.

SHAREHOLDERS' ANNUAL MEETING.
 THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE shareholders of the Reno Real Estate and Investment Company of Reno, Nevada, will be held at the office of the Washoe County Bank on Monday, February 14, 1898,
 at 8 o'clock P. M. for the election of Trustees to serve for the ensuing year, and for the
